INTRODUCTION

Physician Assistant Education Association

Founded in 1972, the Physician Assistant Education Association (PAEA) is the only national organization representing physician assistant (PA) educational programs in the United States. At the time of the 2019 Faculty & Directors Survey administration, PAEA represented 243 member programs accredited by the Accreditation Review Commission on Education for the Physician Assistant (ARC-PA). For more information about PAEA and our products and services, visit PAEAonline.org.

METHODS

Survey Instrument

The survey collected data that are reported in the following sections:
Section 1. Program & Respondent Profiles: Types of programs and institutions represented in the report
Section 2. Demographics: Respondents' age, gender, race, ethnicity, and family composition
Section 3. Professional Background: Educational information, prior employment, and transition from clinical work to academia
Section 4. Current Position: Job applications; PA employment history; and ranks, roles, and responsibilities in the PA program
Section 5. Clinical Work: Practice information for respondents who reported working clinically
Section 6. Faculty & Program Director Salaries: Disaggregations of salary by various individual and program characteristics
Section 7. Medical Directors: Information about responsibilities and salary specific to the medical director role
Section 8. Job Experiences & Satisfaction: Job satisfaction, stressors, and professional development
Section 9. Research & Scholarly Work: Scholarly and research output
Section 10. Professional Service: Involvement and leadership in professional and volunteer groups
Unless otherwise specified, the data in all sections reflect the 2018-2019 academic year.

Survey Administration

Prior to 2014, PA program directors provided PAEA with program employment information via the Program Survey. To improve data validity, PAEA removed the employment information section from the Program Survey and launched the PA Program Faculty & Directors Survey in 2014. The purpose of the survey was to identify key characteristics of PA program personnel, as well as salary and employment trends that inform faculty benchmarking, workforce research, recruitment, and retention. Human Subjects Research review determined that this survey was exempt. The current Faculty & Directors Survey collects rich data on demographics, job satisfaction, roles and responsibilities, and salary directly from PA faculty, program directors, and medical directors.

The 2019 Faculty & Directors Survey was open from March 27 to June 12, 2019. Program directors at all 243 member programs received an email with a link to the survey and a pre-drafted email with instructions to send it to their core/principal faculty and medical director(s). Program directors were asked to provide a headcount of these individuals in order to determine program response rates. Additionally, all program faculty and directors received periodic email and Networker reminders to complete the survey. PAEA research staff conducted email and phone reminders on a weekly basis until the survey closed. The survey yielded an estimated individual response rate of $60.5 \%$, determined by dividing the 1,246 unique responses by the estimated 2,058 full-time faculty members and directors nationwide, as reported in PAEA's 2019 Program Survey. Of the 243 member programs contacted to participate in the survey, faculty representing 238 programs responded, for a program response rate of $97.9 \%$.

Data Cleaning & Analysis

This report only includes data from the 1,246 participants who self-identified as a PA program faculty member, program director, or medical director. Administrative staff were excluded from this report. Throughout the report, unless otherwise specified, "faculty" refers to PA program faculty members who are not in a program director or medical director role.

Responses that fell outside of reasonable parameters were not included in the analyses. For example, an annual salary of $10 would be treated as missing data. Participants who selected "Other" as their response to multiple-choice questions were asked to specify. These write-in responses were recoded into existing categories when possible. The tables and figures presented in this report display aggregate data from the respondents.

In general, analyses of the data consisted of producing descriptive statistics on the variables of interest - percentage; minimum (Min) and maximum (Max) values; arithmetic mean (M); standard deviation (SD); median (Mdn); and 10th, 25th, 50th, 75th, and 90th percentiles (P10, P25, P50, P75, P90). Tables presenting financial information also include a $10 \%$ trimmed mean ( $M(T)$ ), the mean when the bottom and top $10 \%$ of responses are excluded. For some tables and figures, percentages will not equal $100 \%$ due to rounding or when multiple responses were allowed. Total columns on tables and figures are designated by $n$. Financial data were not reported if there were fewer than five respondents.

Limitations

All data collected in the 2019 Faculty & Directors Survey were self-reported and therefore subject to individual bias and misreporting, as is common in survey research. Specifically, response rates for salary information were notably lower than for other items, perhaps because of the sensitivity of the questions. Some respondents also chose to only report their salary range versus the exact amount, which limited the specificity of the data. Respondents varied in their FTE. However, unless otherwise specified, data from all respondents were analyzed irrespective of FTE. Although response rates were high for an online survey, it is unknown how generalizable the present data are to all PA faculty because the characteristics of non-respondents are unknown. Another critical limitation to generalizability is that these data were collected in the spring of 2019 - it is unknown to what extent results are still reflective of respondent experiences as the 2020 COVID-19 (coronavirus) pandemic has forced PA education to rapidly and radically change.

SECTION 1. PROGRAM & RESPONDENT PROFILES

PROGRAM PROFILE

238 programs, or $97.9 \%$ of all accredited programs at the time of survey administration, were represented in this dataset. This section presents a comparison between the institutional characteristics of those programs and respondents represented in this dataset against those of all PAEA member programs. Program data were self-reported and drawn from the 2019 Program Survey. For a map of U.S. Census Regions and Divisions, please see Appendix A.

RESPONDENT PROFILE

Of the 1,246 total respondents, 956 ( $76.7 \%$ ) were faculty, 211 ( $16.9 \%$ ) were program directors, and 79 ( $6.3 \%$ ) were medical directors. Throughout the report, unless otherwise specified, "faculty" refers to PA program faculty members who are not in a program director or medical director role. In this section, six respondents who did not report their employing program were excluded.

Prior to 2017, respondents were only allowed to select a single race category to describe themselves. Beginning in 2017 and continuing forward, respondents have been able to select as many race categories as they felt were appropriate. However, due to low frequencies, respondents who selected multiple races were collapsed into a single "multiracial" category. Respondents reported in the other racial categories selected a single race only.
To stay current with best practices that take a more inclusive approach to assessing gender identity, this survey utilized questions from the Multidimensional Sex/Gender Measure (Bauer, et al., 2017). Participants were asked to report their sex assigned at birth (i.e., male, female, or prefer not to answer) and current gender identity (i.e., male, female, indigenous or other cultural minority identity [e.g., two-spirit], something else [e.g., gender fluid, non-binary], or prefer not to answer). Of 1,223 respondents who answered with something other than "prefer not to answer" to both questions, seven (1.0\%) reported a non-cisgender identity (i.e., their current gender identity differed from their sex assigned at birth).

UNDERREPRESENTED STATUS

Underrepresented status is defined and reported in two different ways. In Table 10, underrepresented minorities (URMs) included those who identified as Hispanic, a single non-White race, or a non-White race in combination with White race. URMs are contrasted against non-Hispanic, single-race White respondents. Table 11 narrows the definition of underrepresented status to "underrepresented (UR) in medicine," defined by the Association of American Medical Colleges as "those racial and ethnic populations that are underrepresented in the medical profession relative to their numbers in the general population." In PAEA's definition, Asian and Asian/ White biracial individuals are not classified as UR in medicine. In both analyses, respondents who did not self-identify their race or ethnicity, or who only selected "other" race, were excluded.

| Medical Directors | 74 | 2 | 1.0 | 0.1 | 1.0 |

Note: Respondents were asked to include their current PA program.

Participants were asked to report the number of unique PA programs they had ever been employed by, regardless of FTE. Although respondents were asked to include their current program, some wrote zero. All participants who responded with zero or who did not respond at all were recoded to one, as all survey participants were currently employed by a PA program. It is probable that some other respondents may have also omitted their current PA program. Therefore, these data may represent an undercount of how many programs respondents had ever been employed by.

Among respondents to this question, $95.6 \%$ of faculty, 100.0\% of program directors, and 75.6\% of medical directors reported that they were considered by their programs to be principal/ core faculty versus instructional/adjunct faculty.

TENURE

Participants were asked to report whether they were either tenured or on a tenure track. Respondents represented 238 programs. Of these programs, 100 (42.0\%) had faculty and/or program director respondents who reported either having tenure or being on a tenure track.

Participants who were neither tenured nor on a tenure track were asked whether their program currently offered tenure to any new hires. Faculty and program directors who responded to this question represented 214 programs. Among those programs, 99 (46.3\%) had respondents who reported that tenure was not offered, 28 (13.1\%) had respondents who said that tenure was offered, and 87 (40.7\%) had respondents who reported contradictory information.

Note: Program and medical directors were excluded from this table as these were assumed to be their primary roles. "Director of Didactic Education/Didactic Coordinator" was mistakenly omitted from the list of positions originally included in the survey. This category was created from write-in responses to "other" position and may therefore not represent a completely accurate count of all respondents with this role.

Respondents (\%)
Respondents were asked to consider the duties associated with their position and estimate the average percentage of their time per week devoted to a variety of activities for the 2018-2019 academic year. Percentages were required to sum to $100 \%$. This figure presents the proportion of all respondents who reported a percent greater than zero for each activity.

Respondents were asked whether they were involved in the education of other health professionals. Those who said "yes" were then asked to specify which health professions students they were involved with.

SECTION 5. CLINICAL WORK

Only respondents who reported working clinically were asked about their specialties and clinical income.

Note: Zeroes were excluded from this analysis. Program and medical directors' income retained by their program/institution was not tabled due to the low number of responses.

SECTION 6. FACULTY & PROGRAM DIRECTOR SALARIES

Throughout this section, "salary" refers to annual base salary for the 2018-2019 academic year and excludes fringe benefits. Zeroes and "I prefer not to answer" responses were excluded from all analyses. " $M$ ( T )" refers to the trimmed mean, the mean when the top and bottom $10 \%$ of responses are removed. To protect participant privacy, PAEA does not report financial information when there are fewer than five respondents. Thus, some categories were excluded from tables due to low response frequencies.

Only faculty and program director salaries are reported in this section. Respondents who were employed for less than . 75 FTE were excluded, resulting in a possible sample of 826 faculty ( $86.4 \%$ ) and 205 program directors ( $97.2 \%$ ), although not all respondents provided salary information and the variables by which salary is disaggregated in this section. Those who chose not to provide a dollar amount were asked instead to select a range that their salary fell into. Among respondents employed for at least . 75 FTE, salary in dollars was available for 659 faculty ( $79.8 \%$ ) and 160 program directors ( $78.0 \%$ ). An additional 162 faculty ( $19.6 \%$ ) and 43 program directors ( $21.0 \%$ ) selected a salary range without providing a dollar amount. Only dollar amounts are included in this report. However, salary ranges are available as custom reports upon request. For information on medical director salaries, see Section 7: Medical Directors.

Underrepresented status is defined and reported in two different ways. In Table 54, underrepresented minorities (URMs) included those who identified as Hispanic, a single non-White race, or a non-White race in combination with White race. URMs are contrasted against non-Hispanic, single-race White respondents. Table 55 narrows the underrepresented definition to "underrepresented (UR) in medicine," defined by the Association of American Medical Colleges as "those racial and ethnic populations that are underrepresented in the medical profession relative to their numbers in the general population." In PAEA's definition, Asian and Asian/White biracial individuals are not classified as UR in medicine. In both analyses, respondents who did not self-identify their race or ethnicity, or who only selected "other" race, were excluded.

INCOME OUTSIDE OF BASE FACULTY SALARY

Respondents were asked to report on any income, besides their base faculty salary, that they received from other sources within their employing institution in the 20182019 academic year. All responding faculty and program directors were included, regardless of their FTE.

Participants were asked to indicate the duties they had in their role, then to estimate the percent of time spent on each duty. Reported percentages were required to sum to $100 \%$. Not all respondents who indicated their duties also reported percent breakdowns. "\% reporting" represents the number of respondents who reported a duty, divided by the 76 total respondents who reported at least one duty. " $n$ " refers to the number of respondents who reported the percentage of their time spent on a specific duty.

Note: Zeroes were excluded from this analysis.

Note: Rankings of time spent are based on respondents' average reports of the percent of their time spent on each duty, excluding "other" responsibilities.

MEDICAL DIRECTOR SALARIES

With the exception of Table 71, "salary" refers to respondents' salary for their medical director duties only during the 2018-2019 academic year. Medical directors' mean and median FTE for their medical director duties only are included alongside salary information, along with the number of respondents who provided both their salary and medical director FTE information. Zeroes were excluded from all analyses.

> Medical directors were asked to estimate the percentage of their total salaries received from each source. Percentages were required to sum to $100 \%$. "\% reporting" refers to the number of respondents who reported a value greater than 0\% for a specific source, divided by the 62 total respondents who provided percentage breakdowns.

Note: Zeroes were excluded from this analysis.

Note: Percentages may sum to more than 100\% because respondents could select multiple groups.

Examples of leadership included involvement on boards and committees. "National specialty organizations" and "Health system" were added based on recoded "Other" write-in responses. "National specialty organizations" refers not only to medical specialties but also clinical medicine focus areas (e.g., LGBTQ+, rural health, homeless health care, etc.). "Health system" refers to leadership roles in the health systems where respondents or their students practice and learn.

[^0]:    Note: "Director of Didactic Education/Didactic Coordinator" was mistakenly omitted from the list of positions originally included in the survey. This category was created from write-in responses to "other" position and may therefore not represent a completely accurate count of all respondents with this role.

[^1]:    Note: Racial categories for which fewer than five respondents provided salary information were excluded.

[^2]:    Note: Degree categories for which fewer than five respondents provided salary information were excluded.

[^3]:    Note: "Private" includes both non-profit and for-profit institutions. Public/private hybrid and military programs were excluded due to low frequencies.

[^4]:    Note: Medical director salaries are not disaggregated by U.S. Census Division due to low frequencies. For a map of U.S. Census Regions, see Appendix $A$.
